Mallaig is a fishing town established in the 1840s when Lord Lovat divided his west-coast farm into parcels of land and encouraged his tenants living around Loch Morar and Loch Nevis to resettle there. "The Jacobite," is an old steam train which runs from Fort William to Mallaig, from whence a ferry can be taken to the south coast of the Isle of Skye. This is the line which carries children from Platform 9.75 to Hogwarts each year.
